Sudden Contraction in Value of Securities and Shrinking of Collateral.

BEARS IN THEIR ELEMENT

SAN FRANCISCO DISASTER THE CAUSE.

New York, April 28.—Heavy liquidation continued in the stock market today without any new development in the situation. The violent decline in prices for the last two days brought additions to the flood on the market by the wiping out of margins, uncovering of stop-loss orders, shrinking of collateral and all the other natural consequences of a sudden contraction in the market valuation of securities. The bears were in their element and of course were not idle. A New York, April 28.-Heavy liquidation den contraction in the market valuation of securities. The bears were in their element and of course were not idle. A remarkable feature of the market was its calmness in the early part of the session when selling was comparatively light and supporting measures seemed to be easily effective. Such a drop in prices as that of yesterday usually has the result of precipitating additional burdens on the market immediately following, owing to impaired margins which have not been made good over night und the natural unsettling effect upon sentiment of a day of demoralization such as yesterday. Sales of this character seemed to be withheld from the market when trade first began. The fact that loans made on Friday at the stock exchange carry over until Monday may have exempted speculative holders from some immediate pressure to close out. But before the session was over stocks poured out from every direction and were thrown over on a swiftly declining range of prices, sales either being forced or the sellers determined to get out at the prevailing prices in the fear that worse was to follow.

The level touched was materially lower than the low point of yesterday. Such exceptions to the weakness as Northwestern, Consolidated Gas and Hocking Valley had no effect in mitigating the gloom that prevailed in all speculative quarters. The bank statement made a showing wide of all calculations and so many complexities entered into the week's market that no one attempted to explain discrepancies. The coal strike prospect was an aggravating factor. In spite of some demand to cover shorts by bears many active stocks closed near the lowest and net losses running from 2 to 7 points were general through the list. The closing tone was active and weak.

Total sales of bonds, par value, $1, 795,000.

Review of the Week.

Review of the Week.

The process of absorption of the shock of the San Francisco disaster has been going forward all the week in the financial markets of the whole world. Much has been accomplished and the sum total of the necessary measures of adjustment to the altered conditions by that much reduced. But the opinion remains undefined or vaguely defined as to how much remains to be accomplished in the completion of the task. Speculative sentiment over the outlook in the money and ent over the outlook in the money and ment over the outlook in the money and securities markets in consequence is much unsettled and the operators in stocks are disinclined to take a position in the market. When they do they are easily dislodged and disposed to retire and wait a clearer outlook. New York financial institutions have born a large part of the burden of the adjustment to the San Francisco losses, owing to the extent to which financial operations of the country center here as the clearing the country center here as the clearing house of the country's banking system. Direct withdrawals of cash from New York for shipment to the Pacific coast have been on an enormous scale. New York, in response to the pressure, has withdrawn gold from London and Paris. As the result of pressure, prices of stocks have been forced to the lowest of the year, representing heavy declines. stocks have been forced to the lowest of the year. representing heavy declines from the high level. Some of the liquidation has been traceable directly to the fire insurance companies, which are forced to realize on their treasury assets to prepare for meeting the fire losses. High-grade dividend-paying stocks of an investment character and bonds of a class to which corporation investment is largely confined naturally have suffered most from this kind of liquidation. But the more speculative securities have not been speculative securities have not been speculative securities have not been securities.

more speculative securities have not been exempt.

The inroad upon bank reserves has had its inevitable effect on the money market. The needs of the great insurance companies offer the alternative of liquidation of securities or borrowing on the collateral of their security holdings to defer the necessity of liquidations. Either expedient is calculated to have a discollateral is calculated to have a dissecuraging effect on speculative activity in stocks. The necessity is recognized of time and patience in choice of a large volume of mercantile credits in volved in the San Francisco calamity to afford possible opportunity for saving those that are redeemable at all. Large new capital outlay for the restoration of the ruined city will constitute a demand whose extent and duration are vaguely understood.

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, April 28.—The strength of the wheat market late in the day was due to numerous reports from St. Louis telling of damage to fall-sown wheat. The news teferred chiefly to damage in Missouriand southern Illinois. The market developed a fair degree of activity during the last hour and closed strong, with prices at almost the highest point of the day. The principal demand came from shorts.

The eves become convested and the lips eyes become congested and the lips red and itching. If the disease is allowed to run, an attack of asthma often sets in. The asthmatic symptoms are usually confined to the night time, although the waking hours are often characterized by shortness of breathcharacterized by shortness of breathing, which the patient describes as wheezing.

HELP NEAR AT HAND.

DR. KEELEY SURPRISED THE WORLD WHEN HE SAID: DRUNKENNESS IS A DISEASE AND CAN BE CURED."

This fact is now known to every reading or listening man, woman and child, so far as civilization extends. Over 400,000 men and women have been cured of alcoholism and drug addiction at Keeley Institutes. Statements made about the treatment being deleterious to health are bosh. It is exactly the contrary. Cures are positively made. Those who relapse to their former habits after taking this treatment do so from a non-appreciation of the requirements and advantages of a strictly sober life.
